SHOULD PRE-EMPTION BE ABOLISHED!

It is the opinion of many authoritative persons that the right of pre-emption should be wholly abolished, and we believe that it is pa would not be difficult to find a sple justifica-tion for this standpoint. Cases do comer where decided advantages accrose to a proprietor who acquires an adjoining property. In agri-cultural land there may be a casal or drain in joint masse which can be best utilised by one_proprietor, or there may be a trouble-some servitude which disappears if a compact block of land is in the hands of one man. With building land a proprietor of a good bouse may rea onably sak the right to acquire an adjoining plot, on which some objectionable structures might by rain-st to the Copreciation of the existing property.

structures might by rai-sel to tile (expeciation of the axisting property.

The assessoe and origin of pre-emption was preservation. It can be traced back to times when taxes were paid by the commonity and not by the individual, and consequently it was an advantage to keep out people who might fail in contributing their proper share of trace. Also the seclasion of the harm could only by preserved if adjoining blocks were not built upon with houses overlooking the existing premises. All this was perfectly reasonable and just, and a proprietor is estitled to be protected from injury to his property when he is quite willing to give as much for an adjoining plock as any oxidised. Some form or firm years ago the law of pre-emption was much modified as regards agricialized land, and it has been put on a basis which is fairly reasonable. There must now be some very tangible reason before the law of pre-emption can be invoked over agricultural land. TO VIE WITH ANY IN EUROPE.

For the last few days Alexandrians have noticed that the Anglo-American Hotel, at the Alexandria termines of the Ramieh Railway, is being dismunded. In fact, this hotel and restaurant, known correctly as Saati's, will soon be only a memory of the past, for it is about to be demolished to make way for a maguifecent structure, which is destined to be the broam-of the finest restaurant in Alexandria. This morning a "Gastelf" representative interviewed Yehia Fachs, of the Alexandria Mu-irphily, to whom the ground belongs, as to what he intended to do with this site, which is undoubtedly one of the finest in Alexandria. His Excellency informed our representative that he bailding would be one which would ve with the most pelastial of similar establishments in London or in Paris. On the ground floor the Fachs will instal a restaurant, a bar, and a cafe. He will spare no expense in ground floor the Pacha will instal a restaurant, a bar, and a cafe. He will spen on expense in fitting out the restaurant and its apparten mose, and it will be reserved for a clienthle of the highest class of altoxendria society. Dy to now this great city has utterly lacked a first-class restauran; and this will therefore fill a moch-needed want. On each of the two facudes there will be a portisely and balony similar to that of the Alexandria Bourse The bar and calé will also be fernished in the same style, and everything will be done to reader these establishments as loxurious and comfortable as possible. The other floors will be built so as to serve for a hot 10 of to suites of large fits. If it is for a hotel or for suites of large flats. If it is decided to have the new Municipal Theatre o the site of the Old Ramleh station, this come of Alexandria will become one of the entral sites in the city.

It is not yet known in the Payons if the Belgian company have actually purchased the Light Railway Company on that all events now that their inspection tour is over, things seem to be getting back into their did groove Trains being two or three hours late is an every-day concurrence, as before. A few days ago the Tamia train left that place at the usual time, but sottally never reached Fayoum that day at all the other being broken or out of order—and as this engine awa attached to the Kalamaha train on Senday last, it stock and resired to move—as no "Beecham" was available. After for and ran it back some 30 metres. After footoor for attempts a start was effected, bottom at each station the same programme had to be resorted to. Can it be wondered at if trains are late! It is, however, quite impossible in a gesse why the Public Works Dept. continue siliche tor why the Government Imprector has never been here (except once) since last June.

Mixed Municipality.

Dootors here fear that an epidemic may break out among the inhabitants of Medinet al Psyoun owing to the fact for the past 16 days they have only had stagnant water to drink. This is due to the neglect of the Municipality, which, when informed by the Irrigation authorities that the Bahr Youssel Canal was to be closed for 16 days, did not take any precautions to supply them with pure drinking water. I cannot imagine what the mules and water carts of the Municipality have been doing during these 16 days, as all the streets are dusty. The public went to know what the Municipality is doing with the money collected in taxes, etc.

Prince Arthur of Connaught and the members of the mission have left Port Said for Tokio with the insignia of our highest order of chivalry, the Gartar, for presentation to our august ally, the Respect of Japan. If, therefore, there be any truth in the rumont that the Mikado felt a sense of affront when, a few years age, this high honour was one ferred on the Shah instead of on himself, that wound to his pride should now be hearded. In any case, it is certain that the islanders of the Par Bast will warmly appreciate the lofty distinction the islanders of the Par West bestow on the stateman and Soversign who carried through the resont war against Rossis with such splendid success. But that brilliant soch splendid success. But that brilliant performance does not give the reason for his inclusion in the membership of the "Mest Noble Order of the Garter." Japan has become, by the evolution of circumstances, joint grawanter with Greats Britain of Arisite tranquility, and the bestowal of the Garter may be considered, therefore, to seal the compact. It is not directed against any particular Power; on the contrary, all whoes apprintions are of a non-aggressive character should walcome the placing of Asiatic peace on a much more apour basis. The prospectus states that Mourse Shepparda, Pellys, and Co. have underwritten the whole of the present issue for a commission of 2½ per cent. and a brokerage fee of a thousand guineas.

There is something vary doubtful about the quiet which is now brooting over the Balkan penicusuls, and it is impossible to avoid the supplies that some move or other is in contemplation by the Powers interested, which they are nawilling that the cut of the wold should know of. The Constantinople correspondent of the "Vostische Zeitung" affirms that Austrian troops have already ecoupied the district of Plevip. in "Potsis herritory." pondent of the "Vossische Zuitang" affirmat that Austrian troops have already occupied the district of Plevija, in Torkish territory, and that reinforements are being secretly sent there. The story, of course, has been denied offinishly, but the correspondent returns to the charge by recalling the fast that in October last, Austria pronosed to the Forten the appointment of a Mixed Commission to deside on the exect frontier between Boania and the district of Plevija, and that the Ports not only refused the proposal, but the Brott not only refused the proposal, but the Brott not only refused the proposal, but the Brott not not yet fine the proposal, but the Brott not Northext, and on the Austrian maps it is marked as being about thirteen miles inside the froating fit is true that the Austrians are laying down a line of rails from Roonis to Northext, and on the Austrian has at last tarteed on the read to Austria has at last tarteed on the read to Austria has a last tarteed on the read to Alanics, with the comitance of Russia. WOMEN'S MENTAL INFERIORITY.

In his interesting discourse before the Bihoological Society, on woman's intellectual position, Dr. Bernard Hollander mentioned that the late Professor Bischeff, of Munich, was one of the leading physiologists of Europ to adopt the hypothes's of the mental inferiorit of woman to man, chiefly on the ground that the average weight of a man's brain was 47½ oz. the average weight of a man's brain was 17½ cz. or 3½ cz. more than a wonan's. Aften his dasth a post-mortean revealed the curious fact that his own brain weighted only 43½ cz. or rather ious than the weight he assigned to the average woman's brain. As Dr. Hollander contended, it was not so much the size of the forest all obes which governs intellectual caps oity.

A notable work by that eminent Egyptologies, Mr. de Morgan, is that 'just published on 'I'us Rechriches' Archylologiacy, which seems to have originally appeared in the enterprising publication called Archesized Aries. He here marks the distinction between the Babylonian and the Egyptian records, in that the first named were consolvedly historical and were written for the sake of posterity, while the last rive, as the others do not, seems from the daily life of the special He hinks, too, that many of the facts of Babylonian history may be explained by the filtery that the different porvinces of Mesopatamis were at one time separated from each other by great tracts of water; and he throws some doubt upon the geomely received notion that the Egyptian fallah is a batter worken for explorers than the Chaldean Arab. Having tradi many different zease, he comes to the conclusion that a few Greek or Italian 'aarvies' would do more work than several times their number of Orientals, and it is not impossible that such canges may in time be organised. He also gives detailed instructions for the systematic attack on the site of an animat town or village, and even suggests several such as likely to yield a profitable crop of antiquities; while he concludes with a discertation upon ancient mines, quarries, and dinies of communication, with many practical histo on the conveyance and preservation of Objects discovered, and some brief remarks on the best mease of publication. LAND IN EGYPT.

POSSIBILITIES OF DEVELOPMENT

The following article recently appeared

The extraordinary prosperity of Egypt babegon to attract the attention of the Britis begun to attract the attention of the British-public, and the general ignorance which pay-alled up to a very few years ago with regard to this country is giving place to a desire to know something of its possibilities. In ourse of time there will probably be a fairly general move-ment to purchase Egyptian scentifies, but at present the small investor usually regards financial and industrial enterprises in foreign countries with much distract, part'y owing to bitter experience in regard to gold-mining ventores. As a field for the profitable invest-ment of mosey. Egypt offers many attractions ventores. As a field for the profitable invest-ment of money, Egypt offers many attractions which are quite auknown to the general public, but which are becoming familiar to mar y visitors among the thousands who witctr on the Nilamore sepecially to those who associate with residents of the country, it is interesting to recall Lord Cromer's remarks of six years ago (Egypt No. 3, 1889) on the investment of capital in Egypt.

"For some years after the occupation of Egypt but little British capital came into the country. This was in some measure due to want of confidence in the political future. In the mean-while foreign opitalists sought with some cagences for Egyptian investments, often with secoses. A adden and comple's change has now taken place. A very marked disposition has recently been shown to direct the tide of British capital towards Egypt. The tendency is to be welcomed; but inswmech as in most cases the compliance, and in some creas the assistance, of the Gyerement is invoked, a grave responsibility rests on the latter to avoid encouraging any unround, illocon-idered, or confidence in the political future. In the mean encouraging any unsound, ill-considered, or purely apeculative projects. Whilst the influx of British capital into Egypt may do a great deal of good if it is directed into healthy of Britan capital may be a seried of the deal of good if it is directed into healthy channels, it may on the other hand do much harm, both to the contry, to Egyptian credit, and to the lona fide investors themselves, if the contrary is the cust Employee in the contrary is the cust Employee which I have slunded above, a nonewhat remarkable change has taken place in native public opinion. Heretofore, native capitalists have, with some rare exceptions, invested their money almost exclusively in land. Re cently, however, a strong disposition has been shown to seek for investments in industrial and commercial undertakings. The change is on every ground to be welcomed. destrial and commercial; undertakings. The change is on every ground to be welcomed, and the tendency may be encouraged by the Government stipulating, in respect to all such undertakings as are in any degree under its control, that a certain proportion of the share capital should in all fature or see because the share capital should in all fature or see the share capital should in all fature or see the share capital should in all fature or see the share that contains the share that contains the share that contains the share that the share t

Crowth of Limited Companies.

During the last seven years eighty five limited liability companies have been formed to undertake various enterprises in Egypt and the Sodan, labit total includes twenty-nice mining companies, while twenty-one companies have for their object the purchase and sale or development of agricultural land or building property. Fifty of these companies were founded in Egypt, and three in Belgium. In regard to limited liability companies founded in Egypt, Lord Cromer drew attention in 1889 to the detective state of Egyptian law, and quoted as follows from a report of M. de Roces Serra, who had for many years been one of the law officers of the Egyptian Covernment:—

"In the present state of the side whe Egyptian "In the present state of the who Egyptian was the Begyptian."

"In the present state of the law the Egyptian overnment is in theory armed with absolute soretionary navas discretionary power as regards the creation o limited liability companies (societés anonymes) and, by resson of the extent of its power, hesi to make use of it ; as a matte anthorisation has ever been refused for fear of hindering the industrial and commercial devehindering the industrial and commercial development of Egypt; after agamination, permission is always accorded. But this examination is necessarily superficial. Even on the assumption that it were more thoroughly conducted, it may asfe'y be affirmed that the Government is liable to be imposed upon by the skill of some onseropolous agent. Should this be the case, the decree of a staborisation gives in some degree offinial sacction to the proposal; the public blinks, or at all events is liable to thick, that the undertaking had hear nationed in all the details by Government officials, and that it is to some extent patronised by the Government. The result is that, in care of disaster, a certain amount of moral responsibility rests on extent amount of moral responsibility rests occurs amount of moral responsibility rests on formal responsibility rests on formal responsibility rests on certain amount of moral responsibility rests overtain amount of moral responsibility rests on certain amount of moral responsibility rests of the State."

the State."

Lord Cromer then went on to say:—

"It cannot be too clearly understood by invasters both in Egypt and in Broupe that the mere fact of a prospector appearing with the phrase "Authorized by Khedivial Borece" or similar words printed on it merely signifies that certain formalising pracroised by the law of Egypt bave been folidied. The use of this EXTURNION does not necessarily imply that of Egypt have been follilled. The use of this expression does not necessarily imply that the Khedivial Government, or its Brittsh adviser, assume any responsibility what sower for the sheolute accoracy of the fact stated in the prospectors. Still less does it imply that the proporal laid before the public is one which will receive poenniary support, or even ecouragement, from the Government.

present one of the most interesting features of commercial enterprise from the investor's point of view. But I do not wish it to be inferred that all such companies can claim the confidence of investrar. There are good ones and bad, and among the latter is more than one that fails even to justify its exister. Por example, the public in England was invited a few months ago to subscribs towards the formation of the North Evypt Land Company (Limited), whose object was to buy and develop a tract of land in the Mariout district, the sole security for its success being the assumption that the Government might be expected to extend a certain casal to within reach of the property and thus provide the facility for present one of the most interesting features o extend a certain casal to within reach of the property and thus provide the facility for irrigation without which the property is practically valueless. It is well known here that Government has opposed intention of prolonging the casal, and that, even in the event of such a project being carried out, the supply of water could only be very preceivous, and even then that the water would have to be raised a considerable height to get it on the land. To those who are familiar with the country this those who are familiar with the country this project appeared from the first to be a hopeless vactors. There have been other land companies project appeared from the first to be a hopeles resture. There have been other land companie loated which, instead of setting to work seriously on sound operations in connexion with land, building property, or trade, hav used their funds to promote or bolster up gol used their funds to promote or bolater up gold and other mining coreras. Generally, I would warn investors (unless they have treatworthy first-hand information) to avoid companies which associate themselves with the Egyptian mining industry. mining industry

QUIRINAL AND VATICAN.

Since the New Years began an event has occurred which is a placed the relations between the kingdom and the Papacy in Italy on a more anomone-sarse footing, and which will no doubt leaf to a better understanding between Church and State in Italy. The present Pope Pines X. has been gifted with the faculty of seeing things as they are, which was denied to his predecessors, and he has accepted a payment of the kingdom towards the expenses of foreign missions, which was denied to his predecessors, and he has accepted a payment of the kingdom towards the expenses of foreign missions, which Pines IX and Lee XIII, thought fit or refuse. In 1873 the Lalian Parliament suppressed the registers of close and disandwed them, but, at the same time, it allotted a soun of £16,000 for the missineance of the orders abroad. This sum the Pope refused officially, as inconsistent with his pone as a Prisoure in the Vatican, but in 1876 the Vicearia begged to be allowed to make use of the many, and so the kingdom bryan to unkee sounds payment, which at last amounted to £5,000 per annum. The money was paid, but nothing was said about it in order that the feelings of the Vatican might not be injerted. The present Pope is a hater of shame, and he decided to put the payment on a proper footing. He, therefore, entered into negotiations with the Italian Government on the subject, and thought he might have legally claimed all arrears since 1873, with interest, he wisely preference on the cast each alir on the memory of his predocesors, and has accepted an annual payment of £12,900 in discharge. Since the New Year began an event he wisely preferred not to cast such a size on the immonry of his predocessors, and has accepted an anosal payment of £12,20 in indicharge of all liabilities. The difficulties with France have induced the Vatican to draw closer to Italy, and the result has been so to strengthen the hands of the Pope as to enable him to abandon an untenable position.

WHAT IT COSTS TO BE AN M.P.

'Most men have to pay pretty heavily for the privilege of writing M. P. after their name Some time ago a member of Parliament, landowner, representing a county constituency said that his seat in Parliament cost him o

Isbouwser, representing a county constituency, and that his seat in Parliament cost him on an average, £4:00 a year, exclusive of the cost of two electrican, which necessitated an expenditure of £1:00 and £1:000 respectively.

"If you were to respond to all the demands made upon you," he said, "your constituents would rob you of every shilling you have. It costs me £4:000 a every thing you have, the costs me £4:000 a year to respond morely to the modorate draunads made upon me. Iget on an average from 40 to 50 begging letters a day. Somebody is building a chapel and wants a donation. In another church the organ is being required, A trademan is on the brink of ruin from which a ten pound note will save him. A fisherman is drowned, and his widow and orphans want immediate secour. A small farmer has lost his cow and his chief means of support. I, as their representative in Parliament, power spected to merchal these wants and supply all these deficiencies."

BRITISH ENGINEERING IN 1905.

That the traditional characteristics of English engineering materials—ex:ellence of quality and sound and conscientious work quality and sound and conscientions work-manbig—have during the past year or two had fall play in the world's market, is shown by the statistic lately published by the Board of Trade. The "Times Engineering supplement" remarks.—There was a point, not so long ago, when it was the fabion about to represent that British engineering was colipsed, or in process of being as, by the superior skill and more scientific methods of our competitors; and to this cry our rational habit of self depre-ciation materially contributed. There cu be no doubt that a truporary disposition to make no doubt that a temporary disposition to make factures prevailed in neutral markets; and other countries reaped a doubtful benefit by the or even e-couragement, from the Government.

The direct route to Sicily is by the Florio-Robattino Co.'s steamers which leave Alexandris weekly for MESSINA, where one takes train to TAORMINA, one of the most charming and popular places on the island. Giradini is the station at which to alight, and the drive up to Taormina is most delightful, occupying about one hour. In and around the town is much to jutgrest the visitor. The theatre is of GATANIA is the starting place for the ascent of Etna and here also is a fine Cathedral. The Greek, Roman, and Sameenie remains that are found all over the island, are an endless sources of pleasure. STRAUES has an interesting interior, having been a Greek city, which wast designed by Demosthenes in ac. 413, and taken by the Romuss in action of the Roman and the Roman and enjoys a delightful climate. Much of interest in to be found-wish fine city. The Polazzon Reads is of Samoesic origin and close to it the church of S. Evisonania depti Fermis with its pictures are also worth a visit.
